

YOU'RE INVITED:

An Intergenerational Dialogue about America's Fiscal Future

When:

Monday, April 6th, 2009, 4:00 P.M. – 7:30 P.M. (Meal provided)

Where:

Foxdale Village, 500 Marylyn Avenue, State College, PA 16801. In the 1st floor Auditorium.

For Whom:

- Penn State University students who are 19 to 25 years old - AND -
- State College community residents who are 55 years of age and older.

What:

This is an exciting opportunity to become engaged in timely economic issues that affect your future and the future of your children, parents, grandparents, and generations to come.

Intergenerational Dialogue participants will share their personal views and explore potential areas of common ground to address the pressing budget issues facing the country.

Attendees will participate in a general overview and orientation and then break out into groups for discussion about the impact of federal programs on the country's economic outlook.

Topics include:

- The problems of cost, equity, and access to health care that affect everyone.
- The long-term solvency of Social Security.
- How our government manages public funding and makes investments in people throughout their lives.

How to participate:

This is a free event, but it is necessary to register beforehand. For more information and to register, contact Matt Kaplan (863-7871), Mark Sciegaj (863-2861), or Mary Ann Curren (272-2102). Deadline to register: Friday, March 27th.

Come prepared to deliberate, listen, and learn about the perspectives of members of your community with whom you might not ordinarily interact.
